

U. N. Fires American For Refusal To Answer U. S. Spy Probers

Lie Suspends Another, Puts 10 On Leave

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie yesterday fired one American U.N. employee who refused to answer questions of the McCarran committee, suspended another and put 10 on special leave pending further investigation.

Lie announced he fired Stanley Graze of the Technical Assistance Administration for refusing to tell a congressional committee hearing whether he is "presently engaged in espionage activities against the United States."

Joel Gordon of the Department of Economic Affairs was suspended pending a complete investigation for refusing to tell whether he was "now engaged in any subversive activities against the United States government."

A statement issued by Lie's office said the secretary general had read the official transcript of the hearings held in New York Oct. 13, 14 and 15 by the congressional committee headed by Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.).

"He (Lie) is very much concerned," the statement said, "that any American officials of the United Nations declined to answer certain questions concerning matters outside their official United Nations duties."

Lie said he had decided "to seek urgently the advice of a group of eminent jurists selected from several member countries including the United States" about what to do.

These jurists, he said, will investigate the whole matter. Pending their findings Lie put the following employees on special leave without prejudice to their future rights:

Frank C. Bancroft, Department of Conferences and General Services; Hope Dorothy Eldridge, Department of Economic Affairs; Jack S. Harris, Department of Trusteeship; Julia Older, Department of Conferences and General Services; Jane M. Reed, library; Herbert Schimel, Department of Economic Affairs; Alexander Svenchansky, Department of Public Information; Alfred J. Van Tassel, Technical Assistance Administration; and Herman Zap, Technical Assistance Administration.

All refused to answer questions put to them by the committee about Communist affiliations.

Lie also notified Mrs. Marjorie Zap of the Department of Economic Affairs that she too would be put on the "special leave" list.

Korean Debate Tops U.N. Slate

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—The powerful U. N. Political Committee last night approved top billing for an immediate debate on Korea. The vote was 51 in favor, five (Soviet bloc) opposed and four countries abstaining.

The committee also voted to give the number two spot on its work list to the Tunisia case and the third place to the dispute over Morocco.

A strong Soviet bloc drive to put ahead of all other business an ominous Polish resolution on Korea and other subjects was beaten down overwhelmingly, 44 to 5.

The United States, Britain and France put up a solid front for immediate debate on Korea, although it is known among the delegations that Britain and France would prefer to withhold any definite decisions on Korea until after the U. S. presidential elections.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson is ready to lay before the committee today a detailed report on the entire armistice negotiations at Panmunjom.

He has shaped up a resolution said to contain a proposal for the assembly to endorse the U. S. stand at Panmunjom and to appeal to the Communists to accept an armistice on U. N. terms.

Cowboy Weds Sis To Protect Her From Foster Dad

Odessa, Tex. (AP)—A young cowboy said yesterday he married his sister to save her from indecent treatment by the man who adopted her.

Curly haired, 21-year-old Jimmy Bryan told his story tearfully from county jail here to Odessa American reporter Ross Davis.

"Neither of us knew it was against the law to marry," Bryan said. "I was just trying to help her. I didn't mean anything wrong."

Bryan was arrested and returned here last Saturday and charged with marrying his 17-year-old sister, Karmen, almost three months ago.

The ranch hand said that since their marriage they had lived as "brother and sister only."

Typhoon Kills At Least 37

Manila (AP)—A typhoon described as the worst in the long history of the Central Philippines killed at least 37 persons yesterday, smashed towns and cities and left millions in property damage.

So devastating was the storm that the Philippines Red Cross announced it was mobilizing all its resources for the relief of stricken areas.

The death toll was expected to mount as fresh reports filtered in from central islands blacked out by the 100-mile winds which flattened communication lines and wiped out crops.

Manila was spared the big blow. All the first casualties reported came from the battered southeast tip of Luzon, the main island.

Saigon, Indochina (AP)—French authorities said last night the death toll from a typhoon and tidal wave which struck Phan Thiet, 100 miles east of Saigon, and along the South China Sea coasts may reach 500. Thirty were known dead.

At least 2,000 straw huts were destroyed Monday night in the town of 20,000 population. The typhoon lasted six hours. The tidal wave was 30 feet high, witnesses said.

Sixth Hurricane Off Miami, Fla.

Miami, Fla. (AP)—The sixth hurricane of the season spawned in the Caribbean Sea yesterday 600 miles south of Miami while Florida still was being battered by the worst northeast storm in years.

A Navy hurricane-hunting plane reported savage 85 miles-per-hour winds on the east side of the storm's poorly defined center. Gales extended outward 50 miles in all directions.

The Weather Bureau immediately named it Fox for F, the sixth letter in the alphabet.

Fox was expected to move slowly northward toward Cuba and Florida.

Tests Show Gamma Globulin Is First Means Of Protecting Man Against Paralytic Polio

By Alton L. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Reporter
Cleveland (AP)—Some children have been saved from polio paralysis by shots of medicine made from human blood, scientists announced yesterday.

"It is the first means of protecting man against paralytic polio," Dr. William McD, Hamilton, University of Pittsburgh epidemiologist, reported to the American Public Health Association.

The shots are gamma globulin—G.G. for short—containing antibodies against all three types of polio virus. The protection is temporary, lasting five weeks or better.

G.G. is not a vaccine, not the full, final answer to polio.

Tests on 55,000 Texas, Iowa and Utah children, 1 to 11 years old, showed that G.G. supplied by the American Red Cross could significantly reduce paralysis, and make some paralyzing attacks milder.

The news was hailed by medical and health leaders as "highly encouraging," and offering a practical method now of reducing polio's

Labor Members Of Wage Board Attack Coal Dispute Decision

Washington (AP)—Labor members of the Wage Stabilization Board charged yesterday that the board "spent more time finding ways to deny than to approve" the $1.90 a day wage increase negotiated by John L. Lewis.

Public and industry members of the WSB trimmed that $1.90 by 40 cents, leading to an immediate nationwide soft coal strike, the effects of which are already spreading to other industries. The public and industry members said the full $1.90 would violate government controls designed to curb inflation.

The labor members of the tripartite board severely criticized their associates and said the majority decision in effect precipitated the strike. They said: "It is not this board's job to create disputes."

Issuing their dissenting opinion in the controversial case, the six labor members said the record of past WSB action clearly made approval of the full amount possible. The main burden of their argument was that miners today do not get three "fringe" benefits in effect in many other industries. These are paid vacations, paid holidays, and higher shift differentials.

Strong criticism of Lewis' refusal to accept the wage board decision came meanwhile from Rep. Lucas (D-Tex), member of the House Labor Committee. Lucas issued a statement declaring that Lewis "for years accepted all the privileges accorded him under the law and refused to bear a portion of the responsibility."

Lewis' remarks about the wage board decision are "the irresponsible ravings of a disgruntled windbag," Lucas said. "His demagogic statement about taking milk away from miners' children typifies the kind of selfish thinking which must be corrected," Lucas said. "He says nothing about the babies all over the country who will be cold for lack of fuel this winter."

HST Lashes Eisenhower; Ike Charges President Adopted Inflation Policy

General Says Wage Earners Booby-Trapped

Troy, N.Y. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower last night accused the Truman administration of deliberately adopting a policy of inflation that imperiled the nation like "a concealed minefield."

The Republican presidential nominee charged that the purpose was to win the next election by making the people think they had more money—though it was worth less.

Eisenhower fired this blast in an address at the Pensacola Polytechnic Institute field house.

His speech here followed a three-day New England whistle stop tour in which he slashed back at President Truman's charge that a Republican victory would lead to an economic crash.

He told cheering crowds in Hartford, Conn., Springfield and Pittsfield, Mass., yesterday that prospects for both prosperity and peace would be better under a Republican administration.

"The inflation we suffer is not an accident," Eisenhower declared at Troy. "It is a policy."

And, he added in one of his stiffest attacks yet on the Democratic leaders:

"What they have done is to cheapen our money and history shows that this is always done by administrations that care more for the next election than for the next generation."

Eisenhower said that back in the Middle Ages officials tried to make fortunes by "coin clipping" and that outraged people sometimes punished them by "cutting off their hands."

He added: "We have a more humane and a more effective remedy for today's coin clippers—cutting them off from public office."

Eisenhower said currencies must be strengthened, inflation beaten and economic affairs set straight "or you will lose the battle with Communism without a gun being fired."

"Communism (French World War I leader) once said that war is too serious a matter to be left to generals," Eisenhower said. "Today someone might well say inflation is too critical a matter to be left to the politicians of expediency in Washington."

Eisenhower said businesslike methods must be applied to every federal government program "to bring about the efficiency and real saving the kind you have had here in New York under Gov. Tom Dewey."

The general reiterated an assertion he had made previously that substantial savings were possible in the nation's military spending and that "we can have more defense for less money."

He proposed the "knocking down of the administration idol of cheap money, getting unified action from our domestic agencies and slicing fat out of our federal budget" as important steps needed to toughen the economy.

"It is clear that the major attack has to be made on a wider front than just money and credit policies," he said.

Eisenhower said the administration's "playing with inflation confused many of its own economists."

Stevenson Claims Eisenhower Trying To Perpetuate Hoax Against Enslaved Europeans

Buffalo, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson last night accused Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower of trying to perpetuate "a cruel hoax" by holding out hope "for swift release of those enslaved behind the Iron Curtain."

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, said the general—his GOP opponent for the White House—made a "reckless proposal" to free Soviet-dominated people in Eastern Europe.

This was an illusion to Eisenhower's Aug. 25 statement in New York that the United States "can never rest—and we must so inform all the world—including the Kremlin—until the enslaved nations of the world have in the fullness of freedom the right to choose their own path."

Eisenhower's statement was interpreted in some quarters abroad as a pledge of military action. He has denied any such intent.

Democrats accused Eisenhower of proposing a war of liberation. He said later that what he had in mind should be accomplished by peaceful means.

Chinese Reds Halt Attempts To Recapture Sniper Ridge After Losing 1,245 Troops

Seoul (AP)—Chinese Communist troops, their ranks shattered by an estimated 1,245 killed, yesterday broke off their onslaughts on Sniper Ridge, which once carried them to the crest.

"We chopped up the better part of two battalions," said the South Korean officer who directed the stout defense of the strategic height on the Central Front.

After the last Chinese had pulled out to the north, South Korean soldiers counted 645 Communist corpses on the hill. Their officers estimated 600 other Chinese were killed in the battle that raged over the ridge from dusk Tuesday to yesterday afternoon.

The Communists committed an estimated 2,000 men to one more furious attempt to take Sniper Ridge, and its commanding pinnacle, Pinpoint Hill, captured by the South Koreans in last week's limited Allied offensive.

While Allied losses were not estimated, the Defense Department in Washington reported the highest weekly U. S. casualty toll since last July. Total reported for the week ended Oct. 17 was 963, including 135 killed. This brought U. S. casualties in the Korean War to 122,117.

There was little fighting elsewhere on the 155-mile front. Triangle Hill, near Sniper Ridge, was quiet. U. S. Seventh Division troops reported only that 10 Chinese who had been hiding in a cave in the hill had surrendered.

In the air war, U. S. Sabre jets Wednesday probably destroyed one Communist MIG and damaged two others near the Yalu River boundary of Manchuria, the Fifth Air Force reported.

Egg Thrown At Stevenson Train

Stevenson, who was speaking to a responsive crowd estimated by

Whistle-Stops Way Across Pennsylvania

Pittsburgh (AP)—President Truman charged Dwight D. Eisenhower last night with waging a false, hypocritical and circus ballyhoo campaign that could lead to "disaster for us and victory for Communism."

Truman declared the general is willing to make politics out of the Korean casualty lists. And he said:

"I cannot trust a man who has played this kind of game with the grave issues of our national security."

Truman's newest onslaught against Eisenhower was in a radio and television address after a day of barnstorming through Pennsylvania on behalf of Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

The President was heckled repeatedly by teenagers at one stop, Northumberland, Pa., where he said Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio would be "the real President" if Eisenhower gets into the White House.

One banner carried this slogan in black letters: "Welcome Mr. Truman but we like Ike."

But all day long he kept hammering away in speeches throughout the hard coal region that a Republican election victory would result in "clavery" for the working man and a new depression, with up to 28 million unemployed.

He charged Eisenhower has shown himself to be so subject to political pressures that putting him in the White House "could plunge us into another depression—or, even worse, might get us into a third World War."

Then at Pittsburgh Truman said Eisenhower, in criticizing the Korean and other foreign policies of the present administration, is turning against the very collective security measures which the general himself had a part in shaping.

Again challenging Eisenhower to make public any way he knows to end the Korean War quickly, Truman said:

These campaign tactics have one tendency to weaken our resolution, to endanger the common determination of the people in the struggle for peace.

In a time of great international peril like this, such tactics are a threat to our national security.

"In a lesser man, they might not be so serious. But the lips of one who has been regarded as a symbol of patriotism and international co-operation, these statements can do terrible harm. They can lead our country onto the path of half-measures and half-heartedness that means disaster for us and victory for Communism."

Truman's first appearance yesterday was at Scranton, where Acting Police Chief Richard Benyon estimated the crowd at 15,000.

Just as Truman was speaking there a press table collapsed in front of him, cutting a power line and blacking out the public address system. Only a small part of the crowd could hear Truman accuse Eisenhower of "taking extreme liberties with the truth" in talking about a "bipartisan" social security program.

The President also spoke at Wilkes-Barre and later addressed crowds ranging from three to five thousand at Bloomsburg, Northumberland, Williamsport, Altoona and Gallitzin.

Davis Switches To Eisenhower

New York (AP)—John W. Davis, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for President in 1924, announced yesterday he will support Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower in this year's campaign because "widespread corruption" in government "demands a change in party control."

Davis, also a sometime ambassador to Great Britain and former president of the American Bar Association, revealed his support in a statement announcing he had joined the Democrats for Eisenhower organization.

Rep. Walter To Be Guest At Dinner

Foreign policy will be discussed by Rep. Francis E. Walter in Stroudsburg Saturday at a testimonial dinner in his honor.

More than 200 are attending. They include members of both political parties, according to Democratic County Chairman John Brislin.

Mr. Walter's speech is the only formal one he will make before the election, it was reported.

The dinner will start at 7:30 p.m. at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Presiding will be Everett Kent, Bangor attorney who was once congressman from the 15th District, the post now held by Mr. Walter.

The district includes Monroe, Northampton and Carbon Counties. Representatives from all of the counties are expected to attend. It was understood there were to be no political speeches, with the possible exception of Mr. Walter's, Brislin reported.

The benediction will be offered by Rev. C. Clyde Levergood, and the invocation by Father Harold G. Durkin.

Rep. Walter's career in the U.S. Congress has spanned 20 years. He is in his 11th term.

Since he first left law practice to sit in Congress, Mr. Walter has risen to a position where he ranks 11th in seniority on the Democratic side in the House, and 27th in seniority in the entire House, which has a membership of 435.

He was honored by the American Bar Association, which gave him an award for "outstanding services." He also received the award of the Patriotic Order of Sons of America for "worthy patriotic service."

Mr. Walter has won life membership in the American Legion for "noteworthy service to all veterans," and received an award as an "outstanding citizen" of the Sons of the American Revolution.

The congressman has served as House speaker pro tem for the past four years, periodically replacing Speaker Sam Rayburn. He has also served as acting chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, of which he is a member. He is also a member of the House Judiciary Committee.

Recently Mr. Walter was endorsed by the Philadelphia Inquirer, in an editorial in the Oct. 14 issue, which praised him for service to Pennsylvania and the nation over his years in office.

Parent-Child Partnership Advocated By PTA Speaker

Pocono Manor — When children are democratic partners in the home, they are trained to make a better world, Knox Walker, second vice president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, said last night in the closing session of the 44th convention.

Speaking on "The Responsibility of Partnership," Mr. Walker summed up the conference theme "The Child and His Family."

"All great relationships of life are partnerships," he said, in which the common risks of life are met, and in which there are no unimportant people. The success of a partnership cannot be brought about by one partner, even in marriage, he warned.

The child is a product of family living, he said, and of the customs, rules and regulations which govern it. Parents as absolute rulers may produce a Hitler or a Stalin, both of whose fathers were domestic tyrants, was an illustration he used.

Family life of the past was not all perfect, he said, pointing to the burdensome life of women and the suppression of children. Among the good things of the past he cited the family as an economic unit and as the center of religion and education.

Today's children find both recreation and education outside of their own home, according to figures he quoted, but in his opinion they can also find a more honest relationship, a more democratic partnership in the home. He praised the PTA in forwarding better ways of training children in love and affection which recognized that if children feel that their opinion counts, they will in turn become more responsible members of the family.

Family life should be a partnership of work and industry and of patriotism, he said, with parents always conscious that they were also partners of God in building the kind of world in which it is fit to live.

During the morning session the address on "The Child and His Needs" led by Charlotte E. Grave, coordinating director of United Cerebral Palsy, was followed by a panel discussion led by Clarence J. Ollendike, state vice president of district 7.

At the luncheon winners in the state contests for press, record and procedure books were announced. Lemington School PTA of Pittsburgh, placed first in the procedure books; Fernside PTA, Johnstown, placed second; and New Sheffield PTA, Aliquippa, placed third.

In the press division Fernside PTA placed first; Roslyn PTA, second; and Castle Shannon, third; with Highland School, Aliquippa winning honorable mention. Mt. Lebanon PTA won first in the information record book division.

Judges were Right Jones of Scranton; Andrew Lewis, Barrett Consolidated School; and Mrs. Horace Westbrook of The Daily Record, Stroudsburg.

At elections the following were named as district vice presidents: Mrs. Frank G. Davis, Lewisburg, central district; Mrs. K. T. Travis, Altoona, south central district; Mrs. Dale Houk, Slippery Rock, Southwest district.

Vietminh Hordes Capture Van Yen, Black River Town

Hanoi, Indochina, (AP)—The Black River town of Van Yen fell yesterday before a Vietminh offensive straining French Union lifelines in the "Little Korea" of Northwest Indochina.

The Communist-led, black-uniformed rebels swarmed in by the thousands from the sector of Nghia Lo, which they captured Saturday, to put traffic on the upper Black River under their guns.

Outnumbered French Union infantrymen and parachute troops fought doggedly in the rugged mountains near the caramel-colored waterway in an effort to stem the offensive.

At heights ranging up to a mile and a half, they battled the Vietminh on grassy plateaus and along trails through the jungle. So bitter was the struggle that at many points they ran out of ammunition and food and had to snatch fresh supplies dropped by French planes to carry on. But the Vietminh advanced steadily between Van Yen, a coal mining town 80 miles west of Hanoi, and the area of Quinh Nhai, a Black River port only about 50 miles south of Communist China's frontier.

Costello May Face Loss Of Citizenship

New York, (AP)—The Justice Department yesterday asked that racketeer Frank Costello's citizenship be taken from him as a prelude to his deportation.

The petition, filed in Federal Court here, was based mainly on Costello's admitted rum-running activities in the 1920s.

The 61-year-old Costello, described in a congressional inquiry as a top man in the nation's syndicated underworld, now is serving 18 months in Atlanta's federal prison for contempt of the Senate.

He refused to answer certain questions of the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee and twice walked off the witness stand at the 1951 hearings in New York.

Costello became a citizen in 1925. A native of Italy, he was brought to this country as a child and grew up in New York.

Once Costello lost his citizenship, he would be liable to deportation proceedings.

Cab Dispatcher Held For Murder

Akron, O., (AP)—Police charged taxicab dispatcher William P. Lardo yesterday with first degree murder in the stabbing of a 35-year-old waitress.

Det. Capt. John F. Struzenski said Lardo, who is 40, stabbed Mrs. Louise Burns, mother of two children, six times with a hunting knife in a stairwell leading to a downtown club Tuesday night.

Then, shortly after she died, Lardo turned himself into the detective bureau. He told them he got into an argument with Mrs. Burns over her "running around with another man," Struzenski said.

Mrs. Burns' two children have been living with her mother in Bloomsburg, Pa. She was separated from her second husband, he said.

Yule Lights To Decorate Main Street

Stroudsburg's main thoroughfare, Main Street, will be dressed up for the Yuletide season, it was learned last night.

Burton George, president of the Stroudsburg Businessmen's Association, disclosed the Christmas lighting program in effect for several years will be repeated, with the possible addition of green decorations on utility poles along the street.

Strings of brightly colored lights will be strung along the street from Fourth to Eighth Sts., with the post decorations scheduled to appear from Fifth to Eighth Sts.

John Muller, chairman of the Christmas lighting committee, presided at a recent meeting held to decide this year's program.

George said an earlier meeting of businessmen failed to disclose any active interest in the Yule lighting project but said "it was felt that this town would look very dark indeed without any lights this year." George called for complete cooperation of merchants in promoting the plan and indicated 1953 may see the inauguration of a new system, proposed and approved by the lighting committee.

Two Injured In Collision

Tannersville—Damages of $400 were caused and two persons injured in the collision of two cars on Route 611 here at 6:45 p.m. yesterday.

Contable Clair Shick said a car driven by Gerald Dymond, 40, Homestead, Pa., was going south at the time. Another auto, operated by Lella Duffy Singer, 68, Stroudsburg RD3, pulled out of the parking lot of Coco's fruit market into the south-bound lane, Constable Shick said.

The two cars sideswiped each other, the officer said, causing damages of $200 to each vehicle. Both were towed from the scene.

Mrs. Dymond, a passenger in her husband's car, was taken to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, where she received treatment for a shoulder bruise.

Mrs. Singer complained of right hand bruises, but said she would visit her family physician.

Clerk Bequeaths $10,000 To Jap Missionary Work

Philadelphia (AP)—The late James Getty worked as a clerk in a food store warehouse, lived frugally and managed to save $10,000 which he had confided to a friend, he didn't want to leave to relatives.

His friend spoke of various good deeds which could be accomplished through his money and suggested Getty talk to Rev. H. George Vorheim Jr., pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, who had served in mission work in the Far East in 1950.

That was how Getty, a bachelor, became interested in native evangelists in Japan. Before his death last Oct. 13, the 61-year-old Philadelphia for two years sent enough of his weekly earnings to the northern island of Hokkaido to support a Japanese minister who preached Christianity there.

And in his will, probated yesterday, he left $10,000—his life savings—to the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to be used for the maintenance of one or more native evangelists under the direction of the mission at Sapporo, Hokkaido.

Car Overtakes; Driver Only Slightly Hurt

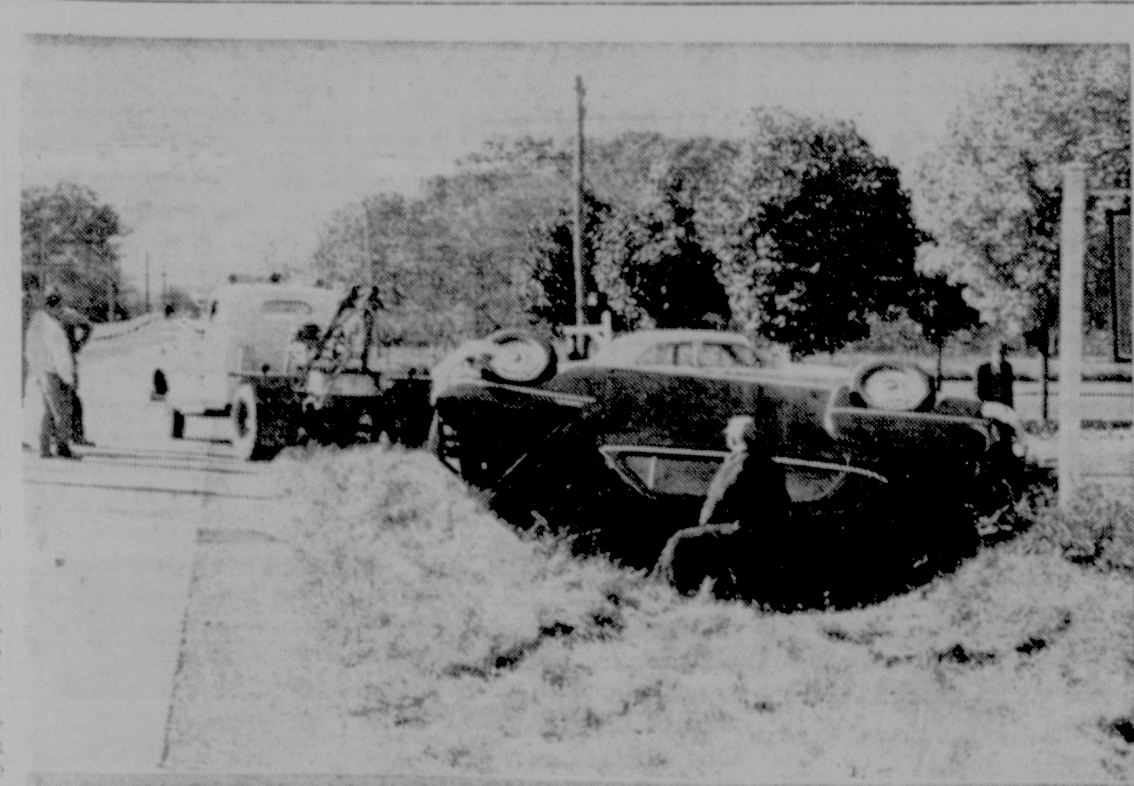

Gilbert—A Philadelphia man, 40, escaped serious injury yesterday when his car went out of control and overturned on Route 209 here at 12:05 p.m.

He was John Gibson, traveling West, according to Brodheads State police. As Gibson's car went into a curve, the vehicle went off on the left side of the road, veered back across the highway to the right and overturned more than 100 feet farther on.

The vehicle came to rest upside-down over a ditch in front of the Green Lawn Tourist home. Damage was estimated at $700. The vehicle was towed to Brodheads-ville.

Gibson was taken by ambulance to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, checked for possible concussion, and released after treatment for cuts and bruises. He told police the steering mechanism on his car "locked" as he went into the curve.

The Resort Industry

Members of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau went last Tuesday night that the region is being operated on a "hand-to-mouth basis" insofar as funds are concerned for vital advertising and publicity purposes. We agree.

Jack Shinn, president of the bureau, made the remark just before two speakers—eminent authorities on the resort industry—arose to prove the point with cold facts.

The operators reacted positively to the facts presented by A. A. Landis, member of the advertising firm handling the bureau's advertising program, and to the suggestions of Edmund Flynn, president of the Pennsylvania Hotel Association.

These experts proved to our satisfaction the resort business has come of age. It has become a massive and highly competitive operation in which those involved must utilize every ounce of ingenuity and every modern means of advertising, publicity and public relations to succeed.

Operators approved an additional assessment for advertising which will raise last year's advertising budget from $6,200 to $15,000. That is good. We think it could be even better if all the allied operations which also benefit from tourists and resort business helped by paying towards the fund.

Some day these allied operations will realize their responsibility and pay. They will have to do that because competition for the resort and tourist dollar will not grow less. It will become like the business itself—more massive each year.

We compliment the operators on their decision to expand their advertising program for the Poconos region. We are sure every operator will cooperate and pay his just assessment.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Nashville, Tenn.—As humorists, President Harry Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson are about on a par.

Both, by their remarks, seem to have made an equal number of votes for the Republican party.

Stevenson, however, known as the Springfield wit, who uses the capital of Illinois as a sort of presidential airlock to sweeten the political odors hovering over the White House, has not as yet stooped to mocking native accents in various regions in the nation.

Mr. Truman has performed this crudity in New York City in a recent speech before a Harlem audience, when he spoke in an imitation of the normal accent you find in this area below the Mason-Dixon line. He sought to belittle the region's problems by getting cute about the way they speak.

Mr. Truman has missed a number of bets. From Harlem, the Negro area in New York; for instance, he might well have gone to Manhattan and exercised his political talents by sneering at their problems in a Jewish accent.

In Minnesota, on his recent whistle stop, he could have taken cracks at the worries besetting his opponents in a Swedish dialect.

Then there is Massachusetts—Boston as an example, where the President of the U. S. A. could well amuse the Irish in dialect, of course, because they do not believe as he does that, without his wisdom, there is no national hope.

In the South, they are not ashamed of their southern accent. It is a mild, melodious thing, soft with courtesy and capable of persuasive charm. It is not a political weapon.

Neither is it one in New York, Massachusetts, or Minnesota. There are thousands of new Americans each day, who assume our citizenship in halting, foreign phrases, with accents rampant and hopes for a new freedom pounding hard in their hearts.

I, for one, can't see where it is funny.

It is true, of course, that Mr. Truman and the South, with or without accent, speak these days a different language. And the same applies to Governor Stevenson, although he strives with robust metaphor to reduce his allegiance to the President by parlor witicism, all a cut above us common people.

Let me show you how much Stevenson means it. He spoke before the Democratic convention in Chicago last July, following his introduction by President Truman, thusly:

"I will give you all I have, even as he who came here tonight and honored me, as he has honored you—the Democratic party—by a life-time of service and bravery that will find an imperishable page in the history of the Republic and of the Democratic party—President Harry S. Truman."

It is this sort of thing, however sweet or silly the language, that sticks in the memory of southern voters. There is a faction in the South which polsters overlook. This is states rights Democrats, who left their mark in the 1948 election. They have not been idle, although their voices have been heard more at home than in Washington, where once they were convinced they could accomplish with sound what they now know can be done only by organization.

States rights Democrats in several places already have formally declared their support for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Those who resented the Truman type of government in Washington in 1948 are not convinced they have an adequate substitute in Gov. Stevenson. If they did think so, the Governor would have received their indorsement instead of Eisenhower.

I doubt that either Truman or Stevenson will find anything funny about these facts—in any kind of accent they want to utter.

No Third Party

Two weeks before the people go to the polls to vote in the most important presidential election of the nation's history, it is interesting to note that no minor party will poll enough votes this year to muddy the election waters.

The battle for victory is squarely between the Republican and Democratic candidates.

It will be recalled that four years ago there were two additional parties involved in the race, each of which gathered in more than a million votes. The so-called Dixiecrats, with Gov. Thurmond of South Carolina its presidential candidate, received 1,169,021 votes, while Henry Wallace and his Progressive party got 1,156,103 ballots.

Almost one-half of the votes in the Progressive party came from New York alone, while another 15 per cent were picked up in California. Just where these votes will go two weeks from now is difficult to determine, although the Stevenson adherents contend that he will be the recipient of many of them.

Although enough votes were cast for Wallace to keep Truman from carrying New York in 1948, none of the minor parties is expected to change the result in a single state although in several states a few votes will turn up for Gen. MacArthur.

Approximately 31½ million new voters will be eligible to cast their ballots next month.

The population of the Americas when Christopher Columbus arrived has been estimated at about 8,400,000 in North America and 15,590,000 in the entire western hemisphere.

One of the reasons the comics are so extremely popular is that they contain so much good, sound philosophy.

With all due respects to us, we are not a very "deep" people, I guess we are still too young. We haven't suffered enough. We still have all the optimism and the pep of adolescents.

At least that is what several visiting Europeans have told me. To become a member of the intelligentsia, it seems one has first to know what hunger is, what poverty means, what going without the necessities of life can do to a person.

Perhaps that is why many members of the intelligentsia are Communists. They have sprung from hunger and want. And even if they have pulled themselves up by the boot straps, they still hate those days when they were poor and will remember them always.

Maybe that is why we have so keep attacking war records of your sons. Your husband made me pledge I wouldn't reveal res-cues by Frank and Elliott on high seas and Arctic. Will you kindly get me released from that promise? . . . Her telegraphed snapper: "If he told you not to do it don't do it. Eleanor Roosevelt."

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

The Ghost Still Walks

Hitler did not create anti-Semitism or anti-Catholicism; he used them as political means for the seizure of power and for self perpetuation. It need not even be true that Hitler loved what he called Nordics and hated the remainder of the human race; he found that by stimulating hate, he generated an atmosphere favorable to his purposes.

Stalin has, in recent years, been aping Hitler. He has attacked what he calls "cosmopolitanism," which can be translated into a type of Slavic-Mongoloid anti-Semitism and anti-Christianity. His position is that human beings in his empire who are related by race, culture, ideas, faith, religion or any other human characteristic or expression, with people elsewhere upon this earth, are cosmopolitans. This particularly affects such universal religions as Judaism and Roman Catholicism.

This same misery has projected itself into this 1952 campaign which, while starting on a high level of gentlemanly courtesy on both sides, has been reduced to a barnyard squabble by the vulgarities of Harry Truman. However, Truman was not the first in this campaign to introduce an anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic tone. He only used it because he could make something of it. The first group to employ this were the scoundrels who tried to advertise General Eisenhower as a Swedish Jew, a biographical inaccuracy designed to prevent his nomination by the Republicans.

The second group to busy themselves with this were the various professional anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic elements led by Gerald L. K. Smith, who hides behind the name of General Douglas MacArthur, to the chagrin of the General's friends and supporters. In the present campaign, Smith has been joined by Jack Tenney, of Los Angeles, a man who has made a splendid record as an anti-Communist and who now wallows in the intellectual and spiritual squalor prepared for him by Gerald L. K. Smith.

Next in this effort was a vicious, lying attack on Richard Nixon as an anti-Semite. There is no basis whatsoever for the charge and never has been. It was designed as a means for influencing the vote in New York State and in California.

The Jewish community of Los Angeles in a most formal manner denounced this falsehood. I was recently told that it was used over the air on a program to which I have never listened.

Now, President Truman has lowered the dignity and prestige of his office, has renounced every claim for respect for him in spite of his high office, by injecting this issue into his own efforts to elect Adlai Stevenson. Surely, Stevenson, a cultured gentleman, bred in the fine liberalism of American traditions, will repudiate Truman's disrepute of American fair-play when Truman said with regard to "Discriminatory provisions in the displaced persons bill, directed against Catholics and Jews."

"The Republican candidate for the Presidency cannot escape responsibility for his endorsements. He has had an attack on moral blindness, for today, he is willing to accept the very practices that identify the so-called 'master race' although he took a leading part in liberating Europe from their domination."

How could anyone say that about the commander of our troops in World War II? It is almost like trampling on the graves of our sons who gave their young lives for their country in the hope that never again would so anti-Christian a creature as Hitler rise to great power. It is as my childhood friend, Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, said:

"Much is permitted in a campaign, but the attempt by implication to identify a man like General Eisenhower—whose humanity and broad tolerance are known all over the world—with anti-Semitism and anti-Catholicism is just not permissible even in the heat of a campaign."

Is public office so dear and power so compelling that adult men wreck the unity of the American people? Have we so debased the electoral process that the President of the United States imitates the meanest of clowns, Adolf Hitler, to win an election? Is the cost in human values worth-while?

I prefer Thomas Jefferson's statement in the Declaration of Independence:

"We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness . . ."

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — It's pretty hard to get an idea, in a press-agent's office seven floors above clanging Hollywood Boulevard, of a nightclub entertainer's talents.

But what I saw of Joel Grey I liked (which is, of course, what the p. a. hoped I'd say). And beyond this was this hard fact: He was going into the El Rancho Regas at Las Vegas, Nev., next day at $1,000 a week for 20 weeks. And Joel just turned 20.

He reminded me, in the way he got around, of a nervous, smiling friendly spider. Probably because he weighs only a skinny 125.

I asked Joel, who'll move from Vegas to Hollywood's swank Mocambo, which he frankly hopes will be a showcase to movie scouts, for a sample of his stuff. "Well, I dance a little, sing a little, and do a monologue of satirical memories," Joel said. It appeared, as he quoted from his own act, that these would be the memories of a 20-year-old of what seemed old:

"Do you remember that grand old man of show business, Jerry Lewis? And that grand old lady of the cinema, Margaret O'Brien? How many of you remember the first Kaiser-Fraiser? And Dagmar?"

Then Joel, tapping his feet as the rhythm of an imaginary orchestra, burst into a song "You Made Me Love You." He said he does this with a cardboard cut-out of Betty Grable. The song and interspersed monologue recite his frustrated love for the leggy star. In his bitterness he has become a "malt-colic,"

The Once Over

Script For An Election Speech

Ladies and gentlemen, I am very glad to be in this town, and I wish I were sure what town it is. In this community I represented all the fine virtues of America, so my ghost writer informs me. As I look into your faces I see everything that is noble in American character, unless my glasses are blurred. You ask what I stand for and I am happy to tell you, play by play:

Foreign Policy—I am in favor of it, but think more items should be deductible for losses by fire and storm. The trouble is that our foreign policy has increased 80 per cent in the last ten years. When I was a boy, foreign policy was hard to get. I was eighteen years old before I knew what it was. Today, it is a drug on the market. The Government is trying to force it on everybody. I am for getting foreign policy once where it was when it would bring 100 cents on the dollar and was worth, Saturday night, what you paid for it on Monday morning. We are over our heads in foreign policy and unless we are careful it will be worthless. If elected I shall check foreign policy, have it rewritten in plain English, break it up into shorter paragraphs and put it back where it was when people knew what they are talking about.

Debt—I favor a better division of debt. The trouble today is drifting from one soda fountain to another, begging the soda jerk for "one malt for the road."

Joel is the son of Mickey Katz, who used to do those gurgling vocal effects with Spike Jones' City Slickers. More recently, Mickey has recorded such parodies as "Kiss of Meyer," "The Little White Knish that Cried" and "The Schlemiel of Fortune."

Joel toured with his father's stage show, "Borscht Capades." Eddie Cantor saw him in Miami and put him on his TV show. This led to Joel's one movie role so far, as a brash military-academy student in "About Face."

Predictions are hazardous, but this bouncy young man looks like a sure thing for movie work. Or, with his assorted talents—including imitations of Johnnie Ray and Frankie Laine—television.

Walter & Son Handle Finest Names In Tv

One of the busiest television shops in the county is that of James E. Walter and Son in Mountainhome. This modern organization is the authorized dealer for many of the finest names in TV, radio, and phonographs. The products of DuMont, Motorola and Philco can be seen in this modern, newly enlarged salesroom and shop. Webster-Chicago three-speed phonos, short wave and special band radios, clock radios, and many new special radios are on hand and coming in almost daily.

Mr. Walter has been instrumental in bringing about improved television reception to the residents of the Barrett area and the county, through his tests and experiments with various antennas, boosters and sets. He also was one of the first to have a mobile antenna test truck and still maintains this service.

Yes, ANYONE can sell television, but, service too, is important. Proper servicing of the TV set after it has been sold is just as important as the sale itself. Recent enlarging of servicing facilities enables this shop to handle most all service problems with ease. James W. Walter has just completed an advanced course in television, radio and radar at Temple University, another link in the chain of better service with James E. Walter & Son Sales and Service.

Popularity and sale of DuMont, Motorola and Philco TV sets run very close with the organization. As Mr. Walter explains it, "We're handling three really fine, precision built products. Allan B. DuMont's research is known throughout the industry. Motorola has been a leader in the electronics field for years, and certainly Philco's research and progress are not to be overlooked."

Selection of TV sets is very good at this time with a wide selection of cabinets and woods. Consoles, table models and combinations in lined oak, mahogany, walnut and the very popular honey-colored French Provincial style. Leatherette and plastic cabinets are also available.

Antennas, too, are available in a number of makes and styles. Amphol, JFD, Channelmaster, Yagis, and the new bedspring type antennas. All told, James E. Walter & Son offer the finest in sets, and the service you should have and deserve! When your thoughts turn to TV, radios, or phonographs, go

THIS MODERN SALESROOM is headquarters for the finest in Television. James E. Walter & Son located in Mountainhome at the road to Pocono Playhouse, handles DuMont, Motorola, and Philco Television. Complete antenna installations are handled by them also. The service shop has recently enlarged to facilitate servicing and setting up of new sets. This progressive organization serves Monroe County and the surrounding area.

Community Chest Drive Reaches Half-Way Mark; Further Donations Asked

Monroe County's Community Chest campaign reached the 50 per cent mark here this week in the drive for $54,980 for charitable organizations.

Meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, division chairmen submitted individual reports of progress for the campaign which was launched Sept. 30 at a kick-off dinner.

Walter Peeney, campaign chairman, said last night: "The key to the situation now is that everybody must do his or her share in this project of community responsibility."

"We mean by this that every individual contacted must give enough to discharge that responsibility to services rendered by the agencies which depend on Chest for continued operation. We also

Blast In Which 5 Died Blamed On Dynamite

Latrobe (P) — A case of dynamite was blamed yesterday for a shattering blast that leveled a modest home near here, killing a family of five including an expectant mother.

State police said they had learned that Joseph Rogosky Sr., 60, one of the victims, had purchased a case of dynamite earlier this week and had stored it in his basement. The case contained 96 sticks of dynamite, 100 firing caps and 100 feet of fuse.

The blast Tuesday night smashed the two-story home to bits.

Lt. J. R. Dodson said Rogosky purchased the dynamite from a Latrobe company. Dodson said Rogosky explained he needed the explosives to open up a small limestone quarry on his 10-acre farm.

Rogosky, his wife, Mary, 60, and their two sons, John, 18, and Joseph Jr., 25, were killed outright. Mrs. Hazel Rogosky, 19-year-old wife of Joseph Jr., and an expectant mother, died shortly after a Caesarean operation failed to save her unborn child.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Do you remember when the children were small, and would never go to sleep just when it was most important that they should—the night you were having guests for dinner—or one of those rare nights out? They seemed to sense your own urgency, and rebel against it.

Well, sometimes I think inanimate objects react the same way. Oh, I know it's your own fault when you spill the milk, burn the precious meat, or trip over the cat just because you're in a hurry and tired besides.

But I meant the things that aren't your own fault. One of Those Days—when the tire goes flat from a nail puncture, when you're late for an appointment; the water pressure drops just when you've a mouthful of toothpaste; and the car behind you zips into the parking space you were maneuvering to back into.

When Those Days come, seems the simplest thing would be just to stay in bed. Except most of us have been so dead set on proving to the family and to the world that we're indispensable, that we can't let go when we want to.

With many another harried housewife, I've flopped down and said with finality "I give up!" And then what? Then we get up and start in again, the only comfort being that every day can't be this provoking.

Those present were: Mrs. Anna Butts, Mrs. Roberta Mosteller, Mrs. Marie Strunk, Mrs. Elsie Hinesline, Mrs. Mildred Cramer, Mrs. Genevieve Shields, Miss Lorraine Tamulis, Miss LaVerna Butts, and the honored guests. Sending gifts but unable to attend was Mrs. James Smith.

The Workshop session of the Monroe County Sunday School Teachers training group has been postponed from tonight, which is its regular meeting time until until Tuesday, October 28. It will be held at the Baptist Church, East Stroudsburg with Mrs. Grant Keiper and Miss Geraldine Jamin as leaders.

Grange Friday

Tannersville—There will be an important meeting of Grange 1415 on Friday, Oct. 24, and all members are urged to attend so that the various activities for the coming months may be fully planned. These include a public square dance, with music by McKay, date for which will be announced after this meeting.

Roller skates were used on the roads of Holland as far back as the 18th century.

TWDBNAS! If that doesn't make sense to you, chalk it down to the fact that I have a code (and little else) in my head. Translated it stands for something like "Ten Wonderful Days Begin NOW at Sears" with AGHV, a Sears term that symbolizes "America's Greatest Hardware Values."

I remember a similar hardware sale last year and how impressed I was with the display. But I'm told that the present selection of hardware will surpass anything previously staged in this line by Sears. For one thing, there will be a 98¢ table showing all types of Dunlap graded tools, and another table featuring better grade Craftsman Tools at $1.95.

Particularly interesting to me are the tool chests which are being shown at only a fraction of their value—real beauties priced as low as $1.95, and all kinds of 98¢ gadgets to go in them. It seems to me that my boys, aged 8 and 14, are of an age where they deserve a really good selection of tried-and-true tools to use in their basement workshop. And so, I'm taking advantage of AGHV Days to do my Christmas buying.

Jerry Hinton, of the Sears advertising department, tells me that there will be a free gift presented on request to all persons visiting our Sears store during the next ten bargain-conscious days. Everyone will receive a yardstick—an item which is basic in every home as well as a Power Tool Catalogue or a Mechanics Hand Tool Catalogue.

That word "catalogue" reminds me of one more thing—the new Sears Christmas book which lists thousands of items, just right in every way for under the Christmas tree. Cora Bishong of the mail order desk, tells me that she was as happy as a child on Christmas morning, when she leafed through and saw the big section devoted to toys. Henry Kresge, Sears manager, was most impressed by the over-all size. He points out that other mail order houses are cutting down on their special editions this December, but the Sears-Robuck is bigger, containing 457 pages, jammed from cover to cover with everything you'd be thrilled to find under the tree. If you haven't received a catalogue, why not inquire about it next time you're in the store?

You know, so much hinges on the pennies you save, I'm quite on the level when I suggest that you wrench yourself right out of that easy chair and bolt down to see these bargains. Just let me hammer one thought home—I saw them, and they're here!

ESSTC Turns Trenton Into Second Soccer Victim Of Season

DeNikemen Keep Unbeaten Record Intact

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College rode to its second soccer decision in as many outings yesterday, when the charges of Coach Howard DeNike scored a 3-0 victory over Trenton State Teachers on the Normal Hill field.

The Warriors tallied one goal in each of the first, second and fourth periods, while a tight defense prevented the Trenton contingent from breaking into the scoring column.

Joe Maiorillo broke the scoreless deadlock at eight minutes of the first period, to the delight of the large crowd, made up almost entirely of ESSTC students.

The Warriors fought along on the strength of their slim lead until two minutes of the second period had passed into history. At this point in the battle, Don Bachtel, a fullback, booted the ball through virtually all the players on both teams and into the nets, giving the host contingent a 2-0 edge at that point.

Halftime

ESSTC remained in front by the 2-0 edge at the halfway mark.

Both teams found it impossible to crack the rival defense in the third stanza, but the Warriors put the game on ice in the final round, when Lyle Kraji booted the ball toward the Trenton goal and was credited with a score when Tom Layden, Trenton right halfback, headed the ball into his own goal, at the 10-minute mark of the final quarter.

The Warriors easily protected their lead the remainder of the distance, as DeNike substituted freely, using a total of 26 players, a feat rarely heard of in modern soccer.

ESSTC returns to the soccer wars next Wednesday, when the Warriors tangle with a strong West Chester band of booters, at West Chester. The Rams defeated Army last Saturday, 2-1, and then lost to Penn on Tuesday of this week, 3-0.

Ithaca Host To Cross Country

Ithaca—With Ithaca College as host, the cross country championship of the New York State College Track and Field Association will be decided here a week from Saturday.

Entries

Hill and Dale runners are expected from Alfred, Brockport, Champlain, Cortland, Harpur, Hartwick, Ithaca, Buffalo State Teachers, RPI, Rochester, Union, and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point.

Coach Isadore "Doc" Yavits of Ithaca College is in charge of arrangements.

Kicks Points With Bare Feet

Seattle (AP)—After three years of trying, a barefoot boy from Hawaii apparently has convinced the University of Washington coaching staff that he can kick a football with his bare toes without fracturing same.

Murray Heminger is his name. His father is a school teacher in the Islands and Murray explains that "we always played barefooted over there. If you wore shoes you were a slay."

For three seasons—freshman, sophomore and junior—Murray turned out faithfully without getting a call from the coaches. He was a familiar figure on the Washington practice field, spending hour after hour practicing his barefoot placekicks.

Unlucky

He was unlucky in that Washington had Jim Rosenzweig for two of those seasons. When Rosy missed a kick the school went into mourning. Last year All-America Fullback Hugh McEl-

Giants' Coach Sees Plenty Of Trouble Ahead

By Jack Hand

New York (AP)—Steve Owen winced slightly as he watched Rookie Hugh McElhenny romp through the Chicago Bears on a 35-yard punt return. Even if it was only a film, it was enough to worry a man whose New York Football Giants must contain McElhenny and those turbulent San Francisco 49ers in a couple of weeks.

"I haven't seen him in person yet," said Steve. "But he looks like a real ball player."

"Those 49ers are just about 'in' already in their half of the league. This will be the first time we play them (November 9). We would wait until they get tough."

Evenly Matched

But Stout Steve can't afford to worry about something coming up two weeks from now. The National Football League is so well balanced that any Sunday can bring disaster. Steve caught it last week, when the Chicago Cardinals, right after a big win at Cleveland,

"We were down and they were up," he said. "We'd been up four straight games. For Los Angeles here in that exhibition. And then Dallas, Philadelphia and especially Cleveland. I wish somebody would tell me how to keep a club up for 12 games."

In case you overlooked it, Owen's Giants lost last Sunday because Ray Poole missed a 29-yard field goal in the final seconds. Owen's comments were typical.

"He just missed it, that's all." No alibi. No second guessing. No rmp for the man who failed.

"The fellow makes nine out of 10 for you along the way," Owen said. "Even Babe Ruth used to strike out. Why blame a fellow because he missed one. It only missed by about that much."

Steve held his hands about six inches apart to demonstrate. "He hit it good," he said. "He hit it good."

Maybe you didn't know there is a difference between the pro and college rules on field goals. In college it's good if it passes over the uprights. The pros, who have their goal posts on the goal line, 10 yards closer than the collegians, must go inside the plane of the posts.

henny did the placekicking. This season the coaches were desperate and Murray got his chance. Perhaps a little worried about Pacific Coast Conference rules, Coach Howie Odell ordered Heminger to wear his shoes on his first try after the team had scored its first 1952 touchdown against Idaho, Murray missed.

After missing another, Odell told him to try the third one without the shoe. Whacking the ball with his bare foot, Murray scored his first collegiate point. He hit the next one, too, but then missed one. He put the shoe back on for his final try and made it for a record of two with the shoe off and one with it on.

People in the stands think he's wearing a sock, but it's only the ankle tape applied by the trainer. His toes are bare. The kick really is made with the meat just below the big toe which bends upward and back as the foot strikes the ball.

Wilson Borough Thirsty For Revenge Against Cavaliers

Wilson Borough—Wilson Borough High, still burning from that unexpected 25-0 setback at the hands of East Stroudsburg High last year, is working hard for Saturday's clash with the same Cavaliers, on Wilson's home field. The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 2 p. m.

Although Wilson lost its opening game to Easton High, the Warriors are undefeated in Lehigh-Northampton League competition and are currently in the midst of the title picture, as is East Stroudsburg, with an overall record of five victories and no defeats.

The Warriors were shocked this week when it was learned that Eben Sales, an outstanding member of Wilson's defensive line, was confined to his home with a case of measles and wouldn't play against the purple and white clad East Stroudsburg grid machine.

However, the Wilson coaching staff also had something to smile about, when it was announced that Ronnie Martin, a defensive back, would be ready for duty on Saturday. Martin has been on the injured list since the opening game of the current campaign.

Doubtful

There are two other members of the blue and gold clad squad that probably won't see action this weekend, although it is possible that both may see limited service. Dave Peruso, who suffered a shoulder separation in the second game of the season with Muhlenberg Township, is working out with the squad again, but doesn't appear ready to play against the Cavaliers. Eddie Baird, offensive guard, emerged from the Coplay game with a damaged ankle and whether or not he will be used on Saturday was doubtful last night.

Wilson probably will feature the two smallest line backers in the Lehigh Valley against East Stroudsburg, but also two of the deadliest tacklers, in Larry Widoss and Eddie Force. There is the possibility of one or two lineup changes in the Wilson squad, as the team hopes to fight itself to a strong point from which to challenge for the Lehigh-Northampton League championship.

Jack Kist, Eastburg coach, is a former quarterback at Wilson Borough High and his very presence on the Cavaliers' bench is generating even more interest than normal between the two arch rivals.

Bivins Gains Close Decision Over Bascom

St. Louis (AP)—Veteran Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland, well known as a power puncher, added to that reputation last night as he won a split decision over young Wes Bascom in a 10-round heavyweight bout at the St. Louis Arena.

While Bivins, a 32-year-old campaigner, overpowered the 23-year-old Bascom the decision was close all the way. Judges Fred Connell and Harold Hess both saw it 51-49 in favor of Bivins. Referee Benny Kessler ruled it a 50-50 draw.

Missouri Rules

Under Missouri ring rules, the two fighters split 10 points a round.

Both seemed in good condition, while Bascom showed the evidence of Bivins' pounding with a puffed eye and nose in the fifth, a round Bivins lost on a low blow.

There were no knockdowns, although Bascom slipped and fell to the canvass in the sixth round.

Delaware To Play In New Stadium

Newark, Del.—David M. Nelson, director of athletics at the University of Delaware, announced yesterday that the last two home games of the 1952 pigskin season will be played in the new Delaware Stadium at Newark.

Delay

It had been hoped by university officials that this year's entire home game schedule might be played there, but the steel strike earlier this year caused a delay in construction plans. The opening game on the Blue Hens' new gridiron will take place November 15, when the Hens meet the Leopards of Lafayette. In the final game of the season, November 22, the opposition will be provided by the Bucknell Bisons, currently the possessors of the longest winning streak in the east.

Bucknell Showing Heels To Foes In Offensive Departments

New York (AP)—Any team which can outgain its opponents by nearly 300 yards a game ought to win. And that's just what Bucknell's Bisons have been doing in four games this season to run their football winning streak to 17 straight games.

All-winning Bucknell and winning Fordham provide the features of the Eastern College Conference team statistics, released yesterday.

Bucknell is first in total offense with an average of 482 yards a game, first in rushing offense with an average of 401.3 yards and third in total defense, allowing its opponents an average of 209 yards a game. That figures out to be an average difference of 273 yards a game in the gains of the Bisons and their opponents.

Certain Point

Fordham, loser in both of its games so far, can show a similar "spread" up to a certain point.

The Rams have yielded only 189 yards per game and only 35 yards a game at that have been on the ground. That puts Fordham first in total defense and rushing defense. And they're leading in passing offense, completing 44 of 96 passes for 386 yards. But Fordham doesn't have the ground game to go with the passing and hasn't scored enough to win.

"The individual statistics fail to show conclusively whether Columbia's Mitch Price or Harry Agganis of Boston University is the better passer or whether Villanova's Gene Filipki or Bucknell's Brad Myers is the more effective ball carrier.

Pimlico Special Narrowed To Two

Baltimore (AP)—Pimlico's famed $25,000 special on Saturday has been doled down to a non-betting two-horse race.

Horses

Larry MacPhail's General Staff and Greentree Stable's One Hitter were the only entries in prospect yesterday for the winner-take-all, weight-for-age contest at a mile and three-sixteenths.

Carnevale Draws Release From Phillies

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies announced yesterday they have dropped four clubs in their farm system and released four of their minor league managers.

Joe Riordan, farm system head for the National League club, said minor league teams dropped were Grand Forks, Neb., in the Northern League; Salina, Kan., in the Western Association; Miami, Okla., in the KOM League, and Tri-Cities, Wash., in the Western-International League.

Pilots Dropped

The managers released were Danny Carnevale, who managed Schenectady in the Eastern League; Lee Riley, Wilmington, Del., in the Inter-State League; Dick Carter, Bradford, Pa., in the Pony League, and Pat Paterson.

Carnevale, one of the most successful managers in the Phillies' farm system in recent years, received his start in the piloting field with Carbondale, of the "D" North Atlantic League, in 1948.

A's Release Fowler

Oronota, N.Y. (AP)—Dick Fowler, 30-year-old right-hander who once pitched a no-hitter for the A's said yesterday he had been given his outright release by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Rex Sox Hurler Turns Singer

Boston (AP)—Without advance billing, Maury McDermott, the Boston Red Sox' lanky southpaw pitcher, made a highly successful singing debut last night in a downtown nine-dance spot.

Program

In his first professional appearance McDermott, who has a pleasing tenor voice, took a half-hour turn, during which he sang three numbers and gave a series of imitations of outstanding performers, including a popular crying crooner.

His current booking runs for two weeks. He will make three appearances nightly for a reported $300 weekly salary.

Finally Makes Captain

Wilkes-Barre—Olie Thomas, former Wilkes College grid ace, holds the rank of captain with the U. S. Army in Germany. He never attained that rank on the gridiron.

Get Anti-Stalling Esso Extra Gasoline

FOR FAST STARTS... QUICK WARM-UP

Anti-Stalling is another big reason Esso Extra performs best in 9 out of 10 cars all year 'round

Stalling in cool, damp weather is caused by carburetor icing. You don't have to put up with this annoyance. For starting power that gets your engine going at a touch and keeps it going, try Anti-Stalling Esso Extra... the only gasoline that effectively combats cold engine stalling.

It's another big extra for your money in Esso Extra—the premium gasoline long famous for quick starting, fast warm-up, high anti-knock power, and long mileage!

age! No wonder more motorists buy Esso Extra than any other premium gasoline in the area served by Esso Dealers.

Don't stall another day—try a tankful right away—enjoy Happy Motoring!

While you're at your Esso Dealer's there's certainly no better time to let him give your car a complete lubrication and careful check-up for the cold weather driving you'll be doing.

Detroit's Automotive Engineers say that cold-engine stalling has been a persistent problem for years. Under certain conditions, powerful gasolines required for today's high-compression engines evaporate and freeze moisture out of the air, "icing up" the carburetor and causing temporary stalling. This stalling is practically eliminated by the new Esso Extra Gasoline. (No gasoline, of course, can correct stalling caused by mechanical faults or electrical failure.)

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Here it is Thursday morning again and time for this writer to stick his chin out and hope that the football punch this week won't be quite as stiff as the one aimed in this direction last weekend, when this column came up with a total of 41 correct predictions and 16 of the wrong variety. Thus far this season the total to date is 193 correct and 62 incorrect, for a percentage of .760. Our coverage in recent weeks has fallen faster than the temperature of this week.

The area high school schedule this week is by far the toughest we have been called on to face this season. The one currently drawing the most attention is the one between undefeated East Stroudsburg and the powerful once-beaten Wilkes-Barre contingent, on the latter's home field on Saturday. This game is certainly a toss-up, with the final decision going to the team that earns and takes advantages of the breaks. This column likes the Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg, by something like 13-7.

Stroudsburg High, after a long rest, will be called upon to meet a good Whitehall squad on Whitehall's home property, also on Saturday. Whitehall is one of the top teams in the Lehigh Valley League this season and must rate a 14-6 edge over the Mountaineers. However, if Stroudsburg is on top of its game, the charges of Coach Jerry Stulgaitis could turn the tables in this contest. Bangor tangles with Coplay under the lights at Bangor Memorial Park tomorrow night and should have easy pickings, something like 16-0.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College tangles with its toughest foe of the campaign tomorrow night, when the Warriors are called upon to face the Rams of West Chester, at West Chester. From this angle it looks like West Chester by a 34-6 count. Otherwise on the collegiate front Army, despite injuries, appears strong enough to edge Columbia, while Boston College downs Fordham and Boston University rolls over Lehigh. Bucknell will decision Colgate and Rutgers looks like a winner over Brown.

Princeton seems destined to inflict the fifth straight setback on Cornell, while Dartmouth is an uncertain choice over Harvard and Holy Cross looks like the winner in its game with Syracuse. Yale will crush Lafayette. Penn will nip Navy in a very good game and Temple will down New York University and Michigan State should inflict the first defeat of the present campaign on Penn State. Pittsburgh will down West Virginia and Villanova is a sure thing over Xavier.

In the midwest Oklahoma A and M should topple Detroit, Bradley should edge Drake, while Purdue bounces back into the win column against Illinois and Northwestern edges Indiana. Ohio State will crush Iowa, Missouri should break into the win column against Iowa State and Southern Methodist will take the measure of Kansas and Oklahoma will roll over Kansas State. Miami, Fla., will take the measure of Marquette, Michigan rates a slight edge over Minnesota and Nebraska should snap back into the victory column against Colorado. Notre Dame will dump North Carolina, Tulsa will elip Wichita and Wisconsin is a very uncertain choice over UCLA.

Alabama will return to its winning ways against Mississippi State and Tulane will down Auburn, while Presbyterian wins over the Citadel. Clemson will edge South Carolina, Davidson will clip Furman, Duke will edge Virginia and Georgia will down Florida in a good battle. George Washington should take the measure of VMI, Georgia Tech will nip Vanderbilt and Kentucky will shade Cincinnati. Maryland will continue to roll this weekend by beating Louisiana State, while Mississippi downs Arkansas, North Carolina State will defeat Florida State and William and Mary takes the measure of Richmond. Tennessee will roll over Wofford and Washington and Lee will down VPI.

Baylor appears strong enough to clip Texas A and M, Houston will edge Temple State, Texas will edge Rice and the remainder of the southwest will remain quiet until a week from Saturday. Arizona looks like the winner over Hardin-Simmons, while Brigham Young topples Denver and Colorado A and M nips Utah State. New Mexico will down Texas Western, while Wyoming edges Utah and in the biggest game of the day, this writer likes Southern California over California, in one of those battles that will be played and replayed many days after the final whistle.

Santa Clara should defeat Idaho, Oregon will decision Montana and Montana State will edge Colorado Western State. Oregon State will nip Washington State in a very close ball game, while College of the Pacific downs San Diego State and Washington clips Stanford. Well, there it is for another week, and believe me, there's plenty of trouble ahead.

Victory Over Charles Would Put Brion In Group Waiting For Title Shot

By Murray Rose
New York (AP)—"They only remember your last performance" is the theme of the heavyweights today. Give them one sock job and they start hollering for a shot at Champion "Rocky" Marciano. Taken Lump They're all doing that, and big, awkward Cesar Brion, 25, of Argentina is ready to throw in his challenge if he upsets Ezzard Charles at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Outside of the champ, all of the current heavies have taken their lumps from time to time. But it only takes one good one to get back in the running. "Jersey Joe" Walcott, Rex Layne, Charles, Roland La Starza, Clarence Henry, and Jimmy Blins are rated in that order behind "Rocky" by the NBA. Cesar is rated 12th. All of the big boys mentioned above have been up and down and up again like a rubber ball in a kid's game. Brion was upset by Bob Dunlap in his last outing on March 4 in San Francisco. Rex came back to beat Charles so he's right up there again. Walcott was beaten by Layne. So what happened? He bounced back, got a couple of title shots and finally knocked Charles' crown off. Marciano knocked him down again but he could get up there the next time. Go through the heavyweight list and it's the same story. Win, loss, win, loss, win, win a good one and yell for the champ. As for Dunlap, now rated one notch over Brion, Cesar says: Mistake

"That fight big mistake. I think I win easy. I don't train too hard. I get beat, that teach me good lesson. I stay in good shape. I think I got good chance beat any heavyweight. I beat Charles than I like title shot."

Charles, of course, is also on the "I want Rocky" list. Brion stands six feet two and weighs 196 pounds. He's strong and takes a very good punch. He's never been knocked out and his record is 39-7. He had 18 knockouts to his credit. The former heavyweight king knocked out Bernie Reynolds in two rounds in Cincinnati 16 days ago. He is favored to make it two in a row over the ring-rusty invader. The 10 p. m. (EST) bout will be telecast by NBC.

Michigan Junior Named Back Of Week By Associated Press

By Sheldon Sakowitz
New York (AP)—Ted Kress, a 20-year-old Michigan Junior who blasted his way to a new Big Ten rushing record, was named back of the week yesterday by The Associated Press in a poll of sports writers and sports casters. The hard-driving halfback, picking up momentum as the season progresses, chugged and churned in a dazzling display of running strength last Saturday while spearheading the Wolverines to a 48-14 victory over Northwestern at Dyche Stadium. Kress ground out 218 yards in 20 carries from scrimmage for an average of 10.9 yards per try. His total yards rushing shattered the individual game Big Ten record of 216 yards set by Michigan's Bill Daley on October 2, 1943

when he toted the ball 26 times. Oddity
Oddly enough, Daley set the previous mark against Northwestern in the same Dyche Stadium in Evanston, Ill. Kress ran roughshod in the first half of play by scoring three touchdowns. Right in back of Kress for backfield laurels of the week was John Borton of Ohio State. Borton, in leading his team to a 35-7 win over Washington State, threw five touchdown passes and completed 15 out of 17 tosses for 312 yards. Harry Agganis, the southpaw quarterback of Boston University, also received consideration for his part in leading BU to a 33-28 triumph over William and Mary.

Many Displays Exhibited In Booth Festival

Poplar Valley — Wesley Chapel and the Poplar Valley charge of the Methodist Church claimed first prizes for their display of vegetables and fruits at last week's booth festival in the local church.

Churches from the Tannersville and Cherry Valley circuits entered exhibits which were judged by Miss Margaret McLaren, Monroe County home extension representative and James Connelly, assistant county farm agent.

While the attendance was reported as only fair, the displays were wellstocked and it was estimated the exhibit represented about $400 in vegetables, fruits, and canned goods. All contributions were sent to the Methodist Home for the Aged in Philadelphia. Judging was based on quality, quantity, variety and attractiveness of display.

At night, services were held with Rev. C. Clyde Levergood, of the Cherry Valley charge, assisted by Rev. LeRoy Bernard, of Tannersville circuit.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. Richard B. Wells, field secretary of the Methodist Home for the Aged. Special music was provided by Mrs. Roger Mansfield, vocal soloist, accompanied by Edwin Fellenberg; a duet featured Mrs. Elwood Fenner and Mrs. Ernest Brewer and the Reish septet, comprised of Mrs. Donald Reish, Mrs. Leonard Reish, Mrs. Glenn Reish, Miss Joan Reish, Mrs. Elwood Fenner, Mrs. Theodore Bush and Glenn Reish, offered selections, accompanied by Mrs. Orien Reish.

Naguib said he would give his answer after one week, in which he will discuss the knotty problem with Sudanese leaders now in Cairo.

Lions Club Gives $1,000 To Firemen

Two fire companies in the west end of the county are richer by $500 each because of the West End Lions Club, it was reported yesterday.

Last summer the Lions Club, the West End Fire Co. of Brodheadsville, and the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co. of Saylorsburg joined forces to produce a "community carnival."

It replaced the separate carnivals which used to be given by the two fire companies.

Paul Kresge was named treasurer of the joint carnival. He is a Lion. When the returns from the carnival were divided three ways recently, Kresge had a surprise for the two fire companies. Out of its own share the Lions Club donated $500 to each company.

The funds will go to pay off costs of a new firehouse for the Saylorsburg company, and will be used to pay part of the costs of the new firehall which the Brodheadsville company is now building.

"Chummy" the 12-year-old Shetland collie of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Block entered dog heaven Sunday morning, Oct. 19, at their home here after a period of illness of an undetermined nature. He is believed to have died of old age. He is mourned almost as a human member of the family, having been such a highly valued pet for so long.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hay have moved from an apartment at Lazy Acres, where they lived for the past year, to a bungalow at the Green Turtle. Their new location is next to Hay's brother, Grover Hay.

Mrs. Beatrice Swink entertained her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swink, of Stokes Mill and Mrs. Lila Neal of Saylorsburg, at dinner Sunday night.

Miss Ruth Frailey and Avon Doll spent Friday in Philadelphia where they saw the Ice Capades of 1953. Miss Frailey, a graduate nurse, is now on regular night duty at the Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Field and sons John and Thomas, spent Saturday in Allentown. The Fields recently purchased a tractor, which fascinates all the male members of the family and claims most of their spare time these days.

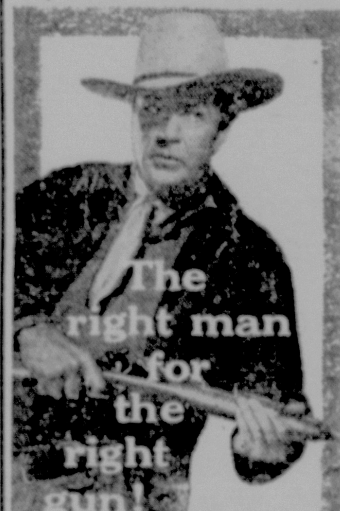

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Wallace returned Sunday noon from an 11-day jaunt to Florida. They drove down the East coast to Miami, Fla., and returned by way of the West coast of Florida. En route they celebrated their 13th wedding anniversary with a special dinner at Myrtle Beach, S.C. Among the places and sights which the Wallaces particularly enjoyed were St. Augustine, Fla., where they drank from the Fountain of Youth, Daytona Beach, The Jungle Gardens at Vero Beach, Mariceland Studios at Mariceland, Palm Beach, where they saw the newly-constructed winter home of Mrs. Hyland, of Henryville, the Sunken Gardens at St. Petersburg, Silver Springs and Lake Worth. At Orlando, Fla., they visited relatives. Clearwater claimed their longest stopover. There they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Naylor, owners of a motor court. The Naylor's formerly operated the cabin colony at Delaware Water Gap which is now run by her brother, Clarence Shafer.

Workers Is Held Unique

Pittsburgh (AP) — Benjamin F. Fairless, board chairman and president of the U. S. Steel Corp., told the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce yesterday American workers alone in the world have a daily chance to buy a stake in business.

After hearing Fairless, C. of C. members received a recommendation from the group's board of directors that Pennsylvania voters reject a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing incurring a debt of up to 125 million dollars to retire state authority bonds.

The amendment comes up for a vote at the Nov. 4 election. The 35th annual meeting also saw Joseph C. Feagley, vice president of Armstrong Cork Co., in Lancaster, elected president of the state organization.

Fairless said the only real and direct ownership of the biggest and most important businesses is in America and not in foreign countries under Socialist regimes. America's brand of public ownership, he said, is "solid daily, in little pieces, on the stock market." He added:

"It is constantly changing hands and it is the workers of this country truly wish to own the tools of production they can do so very simply."

"They do not have to seize the government by force of arms. They do not even have to win an election. All in the world they have to do is buy, in the open market, the capital stock of the corporation they want to own—or as millions of other Americans have been doing for decades."

Lawler Wants
Scranton Tax
Bureau Job

Washington (AP) — Asst. Postmaster General Joseph J. Lawler said yesterday he wants to go back to his native state of Pennsylvania as director of internal revenue, and has applied for the job.

Lawler, who has been with the Postoffice Department for seven years, said that he recently took and passed the civil service examination for director of internal revenue for the district headquarters at Scranton. He said he is now awaiting action on his application.

Th directorship at Scranton, created under the recent reorganization of the Internal Revenue Bureau, pays $12,000 a year. Lawler gets $15,000 a year as assistant postmaster general in Washington.

The new internal revenue directors replace the old internal revenue collectors, who got political appointments independent of the civil service.

Lawler, 51, is a World War II veteran, and before joining the Postoffice Department in 1945 was athletic director at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md., and held various high positions in the Pennsylvania State Public Utilities Commission, and the Department of Auditing and Treasury.

He was in charge of the Postoffice Department's finance office from 1945 to 1950, and since that year has headed its bureau of operations.

Due to services in Keokee Chapel the pastor will be unable to participate in the home coming vesper. Rev. Kindt will deliver the address and Mrs. Post will preside at the piano. The Tannersville circuit choir directed by Walter Sebring will offer special selections, accompanied by Mrs. Alice Fralley.

Mrs. Florence Davis, of 10th St., spent Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rotzell. Sunday afternoon the Rotzells and Mrs. Davis went to Pen Argyl to see Mr. Rotzell's mother. Enroute home they stopped at Bangor. Mrs. Clyde Jewel of that city accompanied them home for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ebert, of Warren, Pa., visited their cousins, Mrs. Layton Osborne and Mrs. Hans Fiesler three days last week. The junior choir sang "I Come To The Garden" at the Laymen's Day service in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. Earl F. Groner gave the sermon. The senior choir also sang and Francis Drake led the service.

Miss Anna E. Scott, of Catasauqua, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard from Friday until Sunday afternoon when relatives from her home town motored here to take her home. She and Mrs. Buzzard met and became friends when both were counselors at a church camp.

Adolph Schmitt, of Mountain Rest, Mimsink Hills, is doing extensive remodeling to his house. Among other changes he is putting in picture windows and enlarging the dining room.

Mrs. Francis Drake who was rushed to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, last week for an appendectomy, is reported doing well. Another Gap resident, William Kaiser, is also in the hospital since last week. His many friends here are rooting for him in his plucky fight against ill health.

The Junior Youth Fellowship,

Mrs. Mildred Buzzard counselor, will have a Halloween party Friday night at 7 p.m. at the Sunday School room. Guests will be in costume. If weather permits a scavenger hunt will be enjoyed.

Burgess and Mrs. Forrest Smith and daughters, Barbara and Sylvia, were in Bethlehem Sunday to call on Mrs. Smith's father, Elmer Rinker.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meixell and Garry and Lois, of Stroudsburg, spent Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meixell. Sunday Mrs. J. L. Shaw and Miss Beatrice Shaw were guests at the Meixell home.

Changes are taking place on Water Gap streets, for the new road, faster than they can be chronicled for distant friends of the town to read. The ground around the former Frank Howard home-site has been torn up and more piled there. In front of it is a seven foot ditch in which huge concrete drain pipes lead into a brick chamber. The hill has been widened past the spot where the Hof Brau garage stood. The old River View wooden steps remain solitary sentinels where trees have been uprooted from the high banks. Where the Juniper cottage stood, is a 25-foot leveled excavation that tempts boys to ball games when workers stop. The road winding back to the River View kitchen passes a rock pile that has been dynamited from the rock ledge there. These rocks are carted to the Lane to make foundation for the piled-up bridge section, or down past Cherry Creek Lodge to be used at the small bridge site below there.
